

TRACKLOK UNSUNG HERO AWARD:

This award is bestowed on one particular unsung volunteer who has dedicated significant time to making a difference at a local level with our Branch Network, or a member

To describe this recipient as selfless would be an understatement.

Over 10 years of service marks the commitment of this person to the services of his peers and the Institute.

Working tirelessly, often at times when changes in personnel and management contrive to deliver lower levels of support for growth and durability of the local branch, this individual keeps the embers of his branch glowing, when lesser individuals may forget to feed the fire.

Not one to protest, he gets on with the job seeking support where it can be gleaned. This individual has studiously been the mainstay of his branch's leadership, if not supporting another, then at the helm himself.

His branch membership is divided by a mountain range, so bringing together members in busy times is a challenge.

Today we celebrate Paul, currently our longest servicing Branch Secretary. Based in sunny Marlborough, he has the enviable task of co-ordinating branch meetings and networking events with his neighbouring province – sunny Nelson.

Paul, we celebrate your commitment to your fellow members, your commitment to the knowledge uptake and professionalism of all building surveyors within your Nelson Marlborough Branch. Your unwavering dedication to the Nelson Marlborough Branch and the Institute is an inspirational to us all.
